Otherwise there will be an endless amount of work created for the woman's committee in revisiting the same territory. OVER SOUTHERN RAILWAY SHOPS BY SERIOUS "FIRE BLIGHT"

Some Growers Report 70 Per Cent. Loss-Only Remedy Is Cut Away Infection.

It has been reported that the apple crop in this section has been seriously handicapped this season by what is known as the "fire blight." Already many of the growers are finding large percentages of their trees infected as never before with this blight. It is a most dangerous infection, as there is practically no cure for it except the de-stroying of the tree or the cutting off of that part which is infected. In doing this, it is understood, the farmers have to exercise the greatest of care
R. S. Walker, editor of the Southern Fruit Grower, states that already a num-ber of complaints are being made to his office by apple growers, and that some of the largest commercial growers re-port serious loss. J. D. Ellis, of Dayton one of the largest growers in this sec-tion, has estimated his loss from the blight at approximately 70 per cent. In referring to this disease, also known as "apple twig blight." Mr. Walk-er says that this is a bacterial disease, and is most difficult to control; that so far no successful means has been discovered which will eradicate it. The germs are carried by bees, the wind and rains into the blossoms of the tree, and the tender twigs soon wither and die, looking much like they had been seared by fire. Mr. Walker says that certain varieties of apples are more susceptible to twig blight than others, and that a rainy seeson in the spring is most fa-vorable to the spread of the disease. He further says that the only remedy for the control of this infection is what is known as the control measure, which is the cutting out of the attacked portion of the branches and burning the part cut off. The knife used for this operation should be dipped each time into a solution of corrosive sublimate or formalde hyde, to prevent spread of the disease.

DAIRIES MUST BE KEPT IN SANITARY CONDITION

Two Concerns Fail to Comply With Law and Are Dealt With Accordingly:

The managers of two of the largest dairy concerns in Chattaneoga were brought before Squire Street's court Thursday morning and prosecuted on the charges of continued insanitary conditions existing at their establishments. The places are the Clover Leaf Dairy and the Harry Wise creamery.

A warrant was sworn out by the state of Tennessee health authorities and both the city and federal officials were called in as witnesses.

Three charges were brought up against the Clover Leaf dairy, first, that of keeping the dairy in an insanitary condition; second, the insani-No. 9—East side Georgia avenue from Market to McCallie avenue, both sides east Ninth to Southern railway bridge and east side Market to Main: W. APPLE CROP THREATENED "Oh, If I Were Only Older!" ANNUAL DECORATION

Little George Dewey, grand-nephew and namesake of the late Admiral Dewey, has just one big wish and that is to be in the war. Unfortunately for the allies (and fortunately for the Huns) he is too young-though he doesn't believe it. But he can wear a navy uniform, and he does-all the time they were arrested this had no een done. Health authorities state that they do not intend to let up with the prosecution of these two dairy concerns, but that if any other place is found to be avoiding the health regulations they will be dealt with in the same way. Commissioner Huffaker is paying particular attention to the dairies, as well as the local pasteurization plants, right at this time of the year when it is most imperative that the milk sup-ply be kept clean, as the bacteria will multiply much faster in warm weather.

In referring to the dairies, Dr. Stanton Barrett stated that all of the herds belonging to the sweet milk dairies have been tested for tuber-culosis and that the general dairy conditions were improving rapidly.
The dairymen all seem willing and ready to co-operate with the members of the health department and are trying to comply with the require-ments. The sanitary conditions are being improved at every dairy throughout this county. Dairymen are busy screening such back porches as they are using as a substitute for milk houses, and others are keep-ing the general condition of the barns cleaner than ever before.

They will assist the women in making bandages and other details much needed by the boys at the front.

POLICE ROUNDING UP AUTO VIOLATORS AGAIN

Automobile drivers, beware! The police are going after violators of the auto ordinance, and the "con-gregation" in police court Friday morning was evidence that they are busy. Practically all the offenders before Judge Martin Fleming were said to have been guilty of "cutting the cor-ners." His honor said it was an easy matter to forget, and discharged those before him. He promised them, however, that they would have occasion to remember if caught again.
